

windy dog hill

a pet friendly vermont bed and breakfast

ALL THE WAY HOME

This summer and autumn guests at Windy Dog Hill reported a strange phenomenon after their Vermont visits. In email after email, expressed in a number of different ways, we heard: Our pup was so exhausted he/she/they “slept all the way home!!!”

Harley was Hanging on the Hill

And thanks to dog quests who left gifts in plastic bags next to the porch. The poop and scoop policy at WDH is take the shovel and flip ‘em into the high grass. Done!!!

Ethan’s Blanket Provided Familiar Smells from Home

Maybe it was fetching tennis balls down on the leach field, or walks in the woods with lots of good critter scents to sniff, or chasing around with the Moffi dogs. But one thing was certain, quality canine time was a vacation priority.

Mollie Tucked Herself into Bed when Mom & Dad Were Out

Akzo - a Smiling Rotty

Zoe (far left) and little brother Justin get ready to take their folks back to South Carolina after a week of biking in Vermont.

SKI SEASON BOOKINGS

“Ski Season” at WDH is really really close and we’re booked for over 20 nights December thru March. We know lift tickets are dear, so to help your budget we have not increased our ski season rates. Check the ski areas for snow and plan now for your 2009 WDH visit. (Don’t tell anyone but the Jan and Feb holiday weekends are open.)

We’ve been blogged

Tobi (above) from the Big Apple caught relaxing at WDH. Check out mom’s blog entry about his visit: www.travelwithtobi.blogspot.com

WDH FAMILY CHANGES

At only 2 he was surprised to find himself there and in need of a home. As a Sheppard/golden mix Duke was a big yellow farm dog, loving, gentle and always to be remembered as a part of our family.

started an inter-species wrestling league with Callie.

Our big boy Duncan (aka The Duke) ended his journey on Windy Dog Hill in September. Barbara met Duke 10 years ago volunteering at the county humane society shelter.

This July a new boy arrived on the hill. PiP sauntered out of the woods into our life. He has settled in nicely and

PiP (as in Pip-squeak)

Merry, Merry and Happy, Happy!!!

Richard & Barbara Moffi
www.windydoghill.com
brmoffi@gmavt.net
802-453-5431