

windy dog hill
a pet friendly vermont bed and breakfast

WDH BABIES' FIRST HOLIDAYS

There is absolutely nothing "special" in our ice-cold drilled-well water. Yes, the WDH view of moonlight in Vermont is very romantic. And okay, guests all say the memory foam bed is really, really, really comfortable.

Ruth Anna (MA)

So we share no credit and no responsibility for the fact that three WDH guest couples welcomed first born babies in 2009 (all girls)!!! Truth be known ... the baby-month-math doesn't work, and one arrival pre-dated a WHD visit.

As much as we enjoy saying that WDH is a pet friendly Vermont bed and breakfast ... we are now thrilled to say (as certified Grandparents) WDH is baby friendly too!!!

Zoe Anais (CA)

Sylvia Rae (MO)

The Dog Chapel

One of Vermont's treasures for dog lovers is the Dog Chapel near St. Johnsbury. Stephen Huneck's carvings and artwork are guaranteed to elicit smiles and tail wags.

Destiny (CT) gave a Dog Chapel resident the sniff test. www.dogmt.com

GALLERY OF GUESTS

Late summer and Peeper Season brought new four-legged guests to Windy Dog Hill and a number of old friends returned also. Here are their furry faces.

From top, left to right: Roxanne and Kaleb (RI); Chantilly and Lacy (NY); Sophie (MA), Dave (on top) and Bailey (NY); Baxter (right) a new addition to the NJ Road Warriors with Gus and a chicken (name withheld by request).

Lost & Found Dept.

Found: Magnet bracelet with greenish glass beads and magnet clasp.

Lost: Our multi-colored Royal Botanical Society umbrella. Sentimental value. No ???s asked.

Left Behind: In guests' thank you notes ... little pieces of your hearts.

More WDH News

On Page 2 ...

windy dog hill
a pet friendly vermont bed and breakfast

The Vineyard and Pond Are In!!!

WHD guests discovered the vineyard planted and a pond dug this summer in the old day pasture where cows once grazed. It's a family affair with the "kids" down the road. Over 400 vines are getting established and by 2014 grapes will be ready to harvest and press. Until stomping time, guests are invited to stroll the vineyard, sit by or swim in the pond and toast the Green Mountains.

Happy, Happy & Merry. Merry!!!

Richard & Barbara Moffi

Gaby & Callie - PiP & Jack

www.windydoghill.com

802-453-5431

